Ebenezer Howard, a stenographer, lived in a overcrowded city, in very poor conditions. As a result of the hardships he has experienced, Howard wrote a book, which sooner became the foundation of modern urban planning. The first city to ever follow this plan was Letchworth. Its design was far from self contained, but Howard's original idea was realised. As the time passed by, the opinion on urbanization has changed as well. It's no longer seen as purely evil, but now has certain advantages. The countries are being lifted out of poverty with the help of it. Yet, the effect of urbanization on economy and ecology is seen as negative. But we should remember that it's an inevitable part of our development. We shouldn't be trying to get rid of it, but rather, work with it. There's an excellent example of a city that managed to deal with overcrowded population - Seoul. Even is the apartment blocks there aren't too spacious, they are convenient to live in. But there's a fear that cities grow one people become wealthier. To prevent that, people decided to make a green belt around the city to prevent it from sprawling. But it only caused people to get more creative with the ways to commute through the belt. To my mind, the issue itself has both good and bad sides. On the one hand, cities are growing and harming our environment, ^{and} economy. even more. We are slowly killing our planet. On the other side - It's just a part of our developing. It means more modern technologies will be invented and we will try our best to save the world.	Количество слов: 226
